3. Copywriting Strategy & Market Differentiation

- The language models were bound to specific commercial parameters unique to local food-retail spaces:
- Friction Mitigation: Addressed the primary consumer anxiety regarding dairy distribution—chemical adulteration, water dilution, and synthetic preservatives.
 - Subscription Architecture: The primary CTA pushes for repeatable revenue mechanisms ("Daily Subscription/Doorstep Delivery") instead of one-off purchases, mirroring the business model of modern successful local dairies.
 - Sensory Writing: Leveraged evocative, appetite-stimulating adjectives ("rich, creamy taste", "thick, traditional", "authentic, rich aroma") to establish distinct quality value over generic store-bought commercial milk brands.
